

HARASSMENT, DISCRIMINATION & VIOLENCE

Reacting and protecting yourself

Have you experienced deliberate physical harm, violence, discrimination, moral or sexual harassment, gender-based behaviour, threats or intimidation? Don't go through it on your own, the professionals of the CEVS watchdog office are there to guide and support you.

Contact : celluledeveille.etudiant@u-bordeaux.fr

A fast and appropriate support

1 – Reporting

Your request is handled by the CEVS coordinator. An appointment will be proposed to you with external psychologists mandated by the university within a period of between 48 hours and 5 working days maximum.

2 – Anonymity and confidentiality

The procedure guarantees your anonymity and the confidentiality of the information provided. Psychologists are bound by professional secrecy and will not reveal any information if you wish to remain anonymous.

3 – Care

External psychologists, university partners, professionals trained to listen and provide support will take care of you. During this meeting in a neutral place, these professionals identify your needs and the steps to take in order to face this situation. Assistance in collecting evidence is offered.

4- Information about procedures

You will be informed about the different steps that can be taken.

Lifting anonymity will allow the CEVS to pass on your report/to inform the relevant departments about your situation so any precautionary measures can be taken, if necessary, and the appropriate disciplinary or criminal proceedings can be initiated.

5- Support

After your appointment, you may be offered psychological and/or medical support.